14% Water Rate Hike In Effect

R. W. Greaves, manager of the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co., announced Saturday that his company was granted an increase in water rates approximating 14% as of June 20, 1972.

Greaves said that the increase was based on the utility operating experience in the year ending Dec. 31, 1970, plus certain adjustments.

Extensive hearings were held by the Illinois Commerce Commission during 1971 and 1972 when all parties were represented.

Greaves added that the increase was allowable under present U. S. price guidelines.

Youth Dies, Was at Madison Drug Party

Gary Duncan, 17, of Rural Route One, Box 345 (Route 162), was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5:45 p.m. yesterday after he was found without signs of life at a party in Madison.

Police are investigating the possibility he may have suffered an overdose of a drug. An ambulance was called to a home in the 1600 block of Sixth Street in Madison at 5:15 p.m. yesterday. Police also responded, arriving before the ambulance.

Officers said that when they entered the home they found Duncan lying on the dining room floor with three or four other persons shaking him in an attempt to revive him.

The house was searched and a small quantity of barbiturates was found, police said. Five persons in the home and two young women outside of the house were arrested. Four persons who allegedly had been at the party were arrested elsewhere later.

Eight are Held
Officers said they questioned and released three persons last night, but held six young men and the two women overnight in jail because they reportedly were "too incoherent to question."

Questioned and released last night were a 37-year-old Granite City man and two young Madison men.

Held for questioning were the Fourth of July Is Proclaimed

The text of President Richard M. Nixon's annual Fourth of July message:

"Independence Day marks more than the birthdate of America. It marks the beginning of one of history's greatest, and noblest adventures."

"Today, it continues to unfold, 196 years after that small, brave beginning in Philadelphia where a handful of inspired men pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to a new nation."

"For nearly two centuries, through good times and bad, the ideals of individual rights and opportunity that inspired men like Washington, Jefferson and Adams have survived and flourished."

"More than any other nation of any era, America has truly been the home of the free and the haven of the weak and oppressed from other parts of the world."

"And the catalyst of American values has transformed the weak and oppressed into part of a strong and a just people."

"Great trials and greater triumphs still lie ahead for us as a people."

"There are still wrongs to be righted, and new goals of peace, prosperity, justice and a better environment to be met."

"But as long as we remain true to the ideals of America, as long as our energy does not flag and our faith does not fail, no problem is too great and no evil is too strong to be overcome by a united American people."

Legislators Adjourn Spring Meet, Vote Some Tax Relief, Fail to Split Levee District

The Illinois General Assembly ended its spring session early Saturday morning, concluding a busy legislative process that will be resumed on Nov. 26.

Affirmative actions taken by the Assembly included: Adoption of a $6.4 billion state budget for the 1972-73 fiscal year starting July 1, including $1.6 billion for transportation and $1.45 billion for public aid.

The appropriations were almost identical to those proposed by Gov. Ogilvie. They exceed projected state revenue in the next 12 months by about $150 million.

Due to disagreements over specific programs, the legislature barely passed economic development and agriculture appropriations. Protecting 47 state grain inspection jobs in Cook County, Democrats from there blocked transfer of inspection to the U. S. and private industry.

A compromise budget of $350,000 was provided for the "New Illinois" tourism program. The rest of the business development plan was approved, including starting a sales office in the Far East.

Enactment of real estate tax relief for the elderly and physically infirm. To help aged and handicapped people with annual income below $10,000 to pay property taxes exceeding a specified level, cash rebates of up to $500 will be made available in 1973. Cost to the state is estimated at $30 million next year.

Approval of legislation under which farmers will no longer pay personal property taxes on equipment, machinery or inventory used in farm production.

Passage of a $5,000 exemption effective next year, leaving most home owners and small businesses entirely free of personal property taxes. Between 94% and 97% of Illinois taxpayers are likely to be affected.

Adoption of an order that all personal property taxes collected be placed in escrow. If the U. S. Supreme Court rules out the Illinois personal tax, the funds then can be refunded to taxpayers.

Enactment of a $661 million capital development bond program to build and repair schools, mental hospitals, prisons and other state-financed structures. A board was created to supervise the projects.

Passage of $30 million in financial aid to non-public schools.

Provision of $217 million for public junior colleges. $283.5 million for the University of Illinois, $119.6 million for the Board of Governors of State Colleges and $132.5 million for Southern Illinois University.

Adoption of a school-aid formula estimated to furnish school districts with $804 million in the 1972-73 year—a compromise between the $911 million sought by State Supt. Michael Bakalis and the $788 million backed by Gov. Ogilvie. In 1971-72, a total of $783 million was appropriated and $738 million was spent.

The Illinois House debated for two hours Thursday afternoon whether to urge certification of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's state of delegates to the Democratic national convention. The resolution died without action.

A bill allowing 18-year-olds to obtain driver instruction permits and driver licenses without parental consent passed the Senate and went to the governor.

The House passed and sent to the governor Friday a $125,000 appropriation to install electronic voting devices, ending House voice vote tallying.

Also sent to the governor were bills clarifying mayors' authority over police and fire chiefs;

Jury Indicts 10 For Area Crimes

Ten persons charged in area crimes were among those named in 11 indictments by the Madison County Grand Jury Thursday afternoon, and another received two concurrent terms of one-to-four years in prison.

Sentenced was Lonnie Turner of Madison, also known as Lonnie Baker on convictions of robbery of $3 from Rose Reed on April 23, 1971, and burglary of the building of William Southard, Poag, on June 15.

Indicted were: Stanley Fondon and Ray

Park District Trip to Six Flags on July 15

A special outing to "Six Flags Over Mid-America" at Pacific, Mo., is planned for Saturday, July 15, by the Granite City Park District. Twenty-three tickets remain for the excursion, Harold Brown, park superintendent, announced today.

Two buses, accommodating 90 patrons, will leave the circular drive at the Wilson Park pavilion at 8:30 a.m. July 15.

They will depart from the Six Flags amusement center at 6 p.m. for the return trip. Brown advised, "One-way travel time is about 90 minutes, he estimated.

The initial outing to Six Flags last summer proved highly successful, with all tickets sold, the park official said. Adults will pay an admission fee of $5.55; children under 13 years pay $4.70.

Roundtrip transportation by chartered bus will cost each rider an additional $2.75, making a total cost of $8.30 for adults and $7.45 for children.

All reservations and money must be received at the Wilson Park Office by Friday, July 7.

Once inside the Mid-America park, the midway rides and other amusements will be free, the official explained, adding, however, that refreshments are not included in the cost and must be purchased, by the excursionist. Also not included are tickets for the rifle range.

Owners Urged—Confine Pets During Fireworks

Pet owners are being reminded to keep all animals confined indoors or tied securely tonight and tomorrow to avoid dogs and cats becoming panic-stricken when fireworks are exploded.

Mrs. Judith Johnson, president of the Association for the Protection of Animals (APA), said pets frequently run away or become unusually hostile due to sudden loud noises caused by bursting firecrackers.

Reports of lost animals are at the highest peak during the Fourth of July period, she said. Planning continues this week for a cat and kitten adoption booth to be sponsored by the association Friday, Saturday and Sunday near the entrance to the W. T. Grant Department Store in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center, Mrs. Johnson said.

Student APA members led by an adult counselor will man the booth, where area residents may adopt a kitten or mother cat upon signing an agreement to care for the animal. Popular breeds will be included among the 25-to-30 animals to be offered free.

No child will be permitted to adopt a pet at the APA booth unless a younger age companion is accompanied by a responsible guardian. A similar adoption project, in which dogs and puppies were made available, was successful, she pointed out.

Hours that the kitten adoption booth will be operated will conform to the store's regular business hours.

Recruiting Awards, William Papa, Commander of Madison Armvets Post 204, and Tom Voloski, first vice-commander of the post, were presented awards for 100% renewal of membership—and for attracting more new members than any other post in the district—during the Illinois state Armvets convention. From left are Leo Clemons, vice commander of the Armvets, Department of Illinois, and Voloski, Papa and Kenny Shoemaker, Division Five commander.

Half-Vote for Delegate Hester

Seven Democratic convention delegates from this district, including Charles Hester of Granite City, Buddy Davis and Gene Graves, are to be seated next week but with a half-vote each rather than a full vote, the national party's credentials committee ruled Friday.

The seven uncommitted delegates are to choose two women as delegates; the nine then will cast a total of 4½ votes.

Losing delegates who supported Sen. George McGovern for president will pick five women to cast a half-vote each, or 2½; the five are expected to include three who were on the March primary ballot, Sue Kolker, Carmen D. Kerr and Lula Mae Williams.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley said Friday night's 71-61 credentials vote to unseat him and 38 other uncommitted Chicago area delegates was "repugnant and a great disservice" to the party. "A violation of the principles which have made the Democratic party the majority party of the nation."

Replacement to more fully meet delegate age-race-sex guidelines are 41 delegates pledged to Sen. McGovern for president and 18 leaning to McGovern. The ruling is subject to final approval by the national convention next Monday in Miami Beach.

Bill May Change Veteran's Day Back to Original Date

By RAY SERATI
Copy News Service

Springfield-Illinois might be changing the date of the observance of another holiday back to its original date. The General Assembly has sent to Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie a bill which seeks to change the observance of Veterans Day back to Nov. 11, instead of the fourth Monday in October. The bill was introduced in the House by Rep. Lawrence DiPrima, D-Chicago. It passed there and was sent to the Senate where it was handled by Sen. Robert W. Mitchler, R-Oswego. The sponsors of the measure are hopeful that Ogilvie will take quick action on the bill. This will enable veterans organizations to make final plans in preparation for Veterans Day observances. The first change in the three-day weekend holiday observance came when the General Assembly voted to observe Lincoln's Birthday on Feb. 12. This is actually the date of his birthday. The change in the holidays in Illinois was made in conjunction with changes made by the Congress as to when observances would be held for the holidays. This change meant many state employees would receive several three-day holidays. The only holiday that was not changed is the Fourth of July. It has been celebrated on the day it fell on the calendar. This year it will be the first Tuesday in July. Mitchler has said he feels that the Governor will sign the measure into law when it is officially presented to him. Major organizations dealing with the veterans affairs have endorsed the plan to change the observance back to Nov. 11. In the past Nov. 11 was observed as Armistice Day, the day on which the World War One armistice was signed. However, some time ago it was changed to Veterans Day.

It was the first Illinois murder trial without the recovery of a body since 1885. The two were arrested after witnesses alleged seeing them beat Johnson at the home of Johnson's grandfather, Ernest Pike, 75, Edwardsville. The grandfather said he heard a shot, and others said they later observed two men carrying away a large object wrapped in a blanket.

USE LOW HEAT FOR CHEESE COOKERY

Cheese cookery calls for low heat — just enough to melt and blend the cheese with other ingredients. High heat or long cooking makes cheese tough and stringy. Dry heat, prolonged baking or high temperatures result in a leathery product. Cut cheese into small pieces before adding to other ingredients. Small pieces spread more evenly and cook in a shorter time.

COOK SOUP CREAM CAREFULLY

Keep cooking time to a minimum and use low heat when preparing recipes that include sour cream. High or prolonged heat causes sour cream to curdle and become thin in consistency.

Margaret Wilkerson Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Palms, ferns and white summer flowers, together with lighted tapers in white candelabra, provided the setting at the First United Presbyterian Church in Madison, for the evening wedding of Margaret E. Wilkerson and Victor J. Gehling.

The Rev. Frank Christ, pastor, officiated at the 7:30 o'clock double ring ceremony. Miss Linda Bonatt, organist, played a program of wedding music prior to the service.

Lighting the candles were Mrs. Patrick Pence and Mrs. James Mikolajczak, both cousins of the bride. They were gowning in turquoise dotted-swiss dresses.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wilkerson, 4020 Park Lane, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gehling, 2250 Benton St.

A bridal gown of silk organza and imported Alencon lace was worn by the bride, who was escorted down the aisle by her father.

The Empire bodice had a sabrina neckline traced with Alencon lace flowers. Matching trim was repeated around the high rise waist and Alencon lace motifs enhanced the long sheer bishop sleeves and edged the detachable chapel length train.

A spray of peau d'ange lace flowers, embellished with crystals and pearls, secured an elbow length illusion veil. Her colonial bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations, blue bachelor buttons, purple statice and greenery festooned with long blue ribbons.

Miss Janet Serrin, the maid of honor, and Miss Beverly Gehling, sister of the groom, selected identical gowns created of blue, beige, lavender and green floral dotted swiss.

A-line in style, their dresses had scoop necklines and long full sleeves. Their outfits were complemented with white picture hats, accented with blue streamers.

Both attendants held colonial bouquets of white carnations, blue bachelor buttons, purple statice and greenery.

The groom chose Joseph Mardul as best man and Philip Boyer as groomsman. Ushers were Keith Gehling, a brother of the groom, and Thomas Wilkerson, the bride's brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson, parents of the bride, were hosts at reception given in the church fellowship rooms immediately after the service. Miss Mary E. Platt attended the guest book.

Mrs. Wilkerson chose a Nile green polyester crepe dress and the groom's mother, Mrs. Gehling, was attired in a light blue polyester frock. Both wore white accessories and white lace corsages.

The bride is a junior at SIU-SW, where she is majoring in English. She graduated from Granite City High School in 1969.

Her husband was graduated in 1967 from Assumption High School in East St. Louis. He attended Robert Morris College and SIU-SW where his major was in history.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the newly married couple will live in Granite City.

EARLY SUMMER BRIDE. Mrs. Ronald Rinehart, who was married at St. John United Church of Christ. The former Miss Charlene Kennerly, she is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kennerly, 3833 Lake St.

Miss Charlene Kennerly, Ronald Rinehart Are Wed

Miss Charlene Kennerly, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kennerly, 3833 Lake St., and Sergeant Ronald Rinehart, U.S.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rinehart, 4136 Kaseberg Lane, exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening at St. John United Church of Christ.

Lighting the tapers in aisle candelabra and at the altar were Pam and Penny Rinehart, twin sisters of the groom. They wore gowns similar to the bridesmaids' dresses.

Preceding the arrival of the wedding party, Mrs. Mary Naud, a cousin of the bride, sang "We've Only Just Begun," "A Time For Us" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Irene Barrick and by guitarist William Ocken.

Officiating at the 7:30 o'clock double ring ceremony were the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey and the Rev. Phillip Lamar before an altar decorated with bouquets of gladiolus and daisies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a pure white organza gown fashioned with an Empire bodice and a high neckline, traced with Venice lace.

Lace motifs forming a broad trim enhanced the bodice and skirt encircled the high rise waistline. Matching lace haird accented the short puffed sleeves and a gathered flounce on the bottom of the very full skirt.

A bonnet effect headpiece secured a total-look mantilla veil, bordered with lace appliques, that fell into a full sweep. She carried a white Bible covered with yellow and white daisies.

The maid of honor, Miss Pat Gardner, and bridesmaids, Miss Janet Rinehart, a sister of the groom, and Mrs. Cindy Hagley, the groom's cousin, wore identical gowns of yellow polyester crepe.

Their frocks were designed in Empire style with high necklines, trimmed with yellow and white daisies, short puffed sleeves and full length skirts. Each girl wore a large white picture hat and carried a basket of yellow and white daisies.

Dawn Rinehart, a niece of the groom, the flower girl, wore a dress similar in style to the bridesmaids' gowns only in white polyester crepe. She carried a basket of daisies.

Serving as best man was Allen Thompson. Groomsman and ushers included Edward Kennerly, brother of the bride, Art Frailey, the groom's cousin, Fred Hunt and John Harper.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kennerly wore a pink and white double knit dress and white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Rinehart, selected a street length dress in pink double-knit, complemented with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white roses.

The newly married couple received guests at a reception at

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her nephew, Edward Mayzer of Kansas City, Mo. She was attired in a silk shantung dress in mini green, complemented with matching accessories. Tiny seed pearls and lace enhanced the bodice of the sheath style frock.

Her headpiece was a flat organza bow accented with delicate lace and pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby breath, centered with a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Orscheln of St. Louis, a brother-in-law and sister of the bride, served as attendants for the couple.

Wib Spalding Does It Again! Wins Both Tri-City Features

If winning both the super-sprint and late-model stock car feature events the week before at the Tri-City Speedway was not enough to confirm Wib Spalding of Ponton Bench as one of the top drivers in the Midwest, repeating the performance Friday in the Independence Day classic was!

Spalding handily fended off all comers in the twin 30-lap races for his second sprint car feature victory and his sixth late-model win of the nine races this season.

In the sprint car feature, Spalding started on the outside of the first row next to the pole sitter, Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., the winner of the feature event June 16.

Utz was in the lead in the first turn of the event. Spalding managed to gain a slight edge over Utz, just enough to keep the Missourian from passing. "I had plenty of power to pass him but just not enough track," Utz commented after the race. "There was only one groove where you could get traction, and Spalding always was there," he explained.

Tom Corbin of Carrollton, Mo., the winner of three consecutive sprint features before Utz and Spalding began sharing the winners circle, finished third after the sprinter of Ronnie Taylor of St. Louis dropped out of that spot with engine trouble. Jimmy Moughon of Spring-Field was fourth and Otte Run of Decatur was fifth to cross the finish line.

Fight for Lead
In the late-model feature, Spalding was under pressure the entire 30 laps from Clyde Lindeman who finished second in the event. It was Spalding who began in the pole position and again it was Spalding who jumped out in front in the first turn of the event.

While the almost wheel-to-wheel battle for the lead ranged, Bobby Stanton of Alton and Louie Jansen of Bethalto carried on an even closer race for third with Jansen edging out Stanton by less than a second at the finish line. Joe Northrup of Jacksonville finished fifth.

Utz was the fastest sprint qualifier of the evening with a lap of 24.81 seconds on the half-mile clay oval and Spalding was second with a lap of 24.87 seconds.

Taylor won the trophy dash, trailed by Utz, Spalding, David Dwyer, Moughon, Dwyer and Utz finished first, second and third in the first heat.

Ron Milton of Jacksonville won the second heat with Ron Roeder of Florissant, Mo., second and Torch Abshire of St. Louis third.

Spalding won the third heat, trailed by Runion, Taylor and rookie Larry Dieterman of Edwardsville.

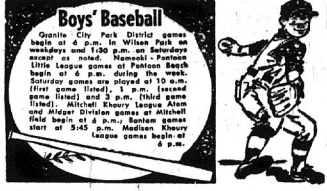

Fastest Late-Model
The fastest late-model qualifier was Spalding who turned a lap in 27.46 seconds. Myers was second fastest and Lindeman was third.

The late models of Northrup, Spalding and Lindeman were the first cars to cross the finish line in the first heat and James Lamelin of Jacksonville won the second event, trailed by Butch Roulard of Jacksonville and Norm Cox of Berkeley, Mo. Myers was victorious in the third heat with Stanton second and Jansen third.

Admission will return to $3 for adults this Friday night as a full field of challengers will attempt to stop Spalding's string of victories. Time-trial racing begins at 7:30 p.m. Friday with racing at 8:30 p.m.

Spalding and other Tri-City drivers will compete in the dual 50-lap races on the mile oval at the Duquoin State Fairgrounds in DuQuoin tomorrow afternoon. Spalding was the winner of the lone feature there last year.

Weekend Rain Brings Only Slight Relief

Rainfall measuring .38 of an inch fell in the Quad-City area Sunday night and early this morning, the heaviest fall since June 15 when a fall of .39 was recorded.

It was the first measurable rainfall in the area since June 20 when a fall of .15 of an inch was recorded, according to the weather records at the Chain of Rocks Lock.

Rainfall during June measured only .50 of an inch for the entire month, making it the second driest month this year. Only .34 of an inch of rain fell in the Quad-Cities in January. June rainfall included .05 of an inch of June 10, .39 of an inch on June 15 and .15 of an inch on June 26.

Legislators

providing $70,000 for grants to encourage qualified law enforcement officers to further their education; and ending Cook County's status of independence from the Illinois Public Aid Department.

The House on Friday sent to the governor a bill under which Downstate public transit systems like the Bi-State System will have a chance to get state and federal grants without having to provide local matching funds.

A bill to set up separate levee districts for the Quad-City and East St. Louis areas failed to clear the Assembly, the vote to create a conference committee falling one vote short of the 30 needed in the Senate.

An advocate of the levee district division, Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D, Edwardsville) also lost out on his proposal for an STU-SW civic center when the House killed all bills pending on its calendar just before adjourning. A Springfield convention center bill passed.

State Rep. Horace Calvo (D, Granite City) said most of the levee division amendments suggested by William Hanley, Gov. Ogilvie's legislative counsel, were incorporated into the bill.

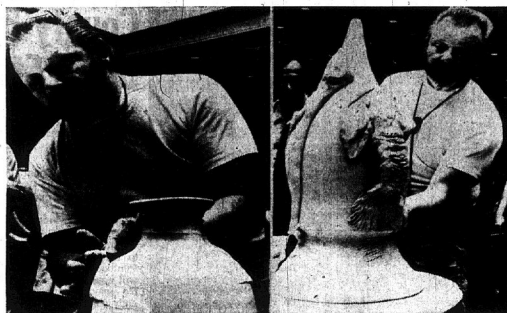

Vadalabene attributed the levee bill defeat to the governor.

Other negative decisions made by the Illinois legislature included the following:

1. No action to limit election campaign contributions and spending.
2. No two-year freeze on the present level of real estate taxes.
3. No state boards of election and education to implement the 1970 Illinois Constitution.
4. No state lottery; the proposal lost in the Senate.
5. Senate approval but two House rejections of a federal women's equal rights amendment.
6. No action to buy abandoned strip mines and improve the land for resale.
7. No move to control scenic river shorelines.

COMPLAINS OF PAIN

Larry Tinker, 17, of 2457 State St., complained of pains after an auto in which he was riding, driven by Scott Bell, 3328 Lydia Lane, skidded on wet pavement and struck the parked car of Harold Caldwell, 1713 Spring Ave., at 11:30 p.m. Sunday at 1709 Spring. Tinker was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released following x-rays of the right knee.

SCULPTOR AT WORK. Robert Nelson, winner of this year's National Drawing and Print Show at Davidson, N. C., gave a ceramics demonstration Thursday at STU-SW. He has been visiting here for three weeks conducting a ceramic workshop. Theme of the workshop was the fantasy of the underwater world, with all work being done in white porcelain. In the picture at the left, Nelson begins adding texture to the sculpture. In the second picture, he has added a sea creature. In the third picture at far right he adds finishing touches to the opposite side of the artwork.

Parades Used to Be the Thing--With Patriotism

By HELEN M. PAGEL
Copley News Service

There aren't as many parades today as there were 60 years ago. There's too much traffic in the way. When there were only horses and buggies and trolley cars, there wasn't much of a problem.

You could always drive a horse down some other street and the trolley cars simply stopped running because there wasn't anybody to ride on them. Everyone was watching the parade.

Almost anything was excuse through the streets by flowered, decorated carriages or in one of those innovations known as an automobile, whose maximum speed was about 12 miles an hour.

There were bands, of course, and they marched briskly along, playing such grand old tunes as "Bonny Eloise" and "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Music like that was enough to make a wooden Indian come to life and join the procession, and as for the bystanders, they clapped their hands and stamped their feet and cheered themselves hoarse.

The most important person in the whole parade was the standard-bearer, and although his arms ached from supporting the heavy brass pole, he wouldn't have given up his position for anything. For at the top of the pole, snapping and fluttering in the breeze, its colors brilliant in the sunlight, waved Old Glory.

And how the crowd cheered when they saw it coming down the street. But as it passed by the cheering stopped and a reverent hush took its place.

Men removed their hats, women placed their right hands over their hearts and even children stood at attention and saluted proudly. If any individual was careless about observing the proper respect, he was likely to get a sharp poke in the ribs from his neighbor's elbow and a curt reminder: "Take off your hat! The flag's going by!"

And if he had any notion of disregarding the reminder, one glance at the black looks from the crowd around him caused him to speedily change his mind. He took off his hat.

After the parade had passed by, most of the crowd closed in and followed it to its destination, which was probably the nearest cemetery, where somebody gave a speech which nobody could hear, but there was no diminution of enthusiasm over a little detail like that.

Then while everybody stood at silent attention, the bugler played "Taps," the honor guard fired a salute, a wreath was placed on some soldier's grave and the celebration was over.

Only it wasn't really over. There was something—a sort of inner flame—which had been made to burn a little more brightly again. It was known as patriotism.

AUTO BACKS, COLLIDES

Eastern Illinois University is accepting applications for the fall quarter, according to Sandra Taber, dean of student academic services.

Taber said fall quarter enrollment remains open for qualified first-time freshmen, transfer students and former students seeking readmission. He urged prospective students to submit their applications for admission without delay, however, to insure consideration.

Former graduate students who did not attend Eastern in spring or summer 1972 must apply for readmission for the fall quarter no later than Aug. 23, Taber said.

College Chapel Scene of Schmitt-Hudson Wedding

Miss Linda Joyce Hudson and Kenneth Schmitt were united in marriage in an impressive double ring ceremony, conducted by three ministers, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening in the chapel of Gateway College of Evangelism at Florissant, Mo.

The Rev. Kenneth V. Reeves, pastor of the First United Pentecostal Church, 2450 Pontoon Road, was assisted by the Rev. Roy Gerald, pastor of United Pentecostal Church of Lemay, Mo., where the groom is a member of the congregation, and the Rev. R. P. Kloepper, president of Gateway College.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hudson of Rural Route Four, Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, Mo., and Mrs. Clyde M. Schmitt, 4815 Dorset Drive, St. Louis.

Lanny Wolfe of Florissant presided at the organ for vocalists, Mrs. Lanny Wolfe and Virgil Hudson, an uncle of the bride, who sang "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," "One Love," and "In Jesus Name." Lighting the candles for the evening service was Mrs. David Polivick of Granite City and Danny Exeler of Lemay, Mo.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Hudson wore an exquisite gown fashioned of Schiffli embroidered organza sprinkled with tiny delicate forget-me-nots.

The fitted bodice featured a high neckline of lace and long puff sleeves ending in wide lace cuffs. The slightly gathered skirt extended into a cathedral train.

She wore a fragile floral headpiece of lace to secure a full length veil of imported bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of white snow crystal poms and pink roses.

Miss Sharon Hudson, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a pink empire style dress with a pink bodice and long white sleeves. The soft rolled collar was created to form a bow at the neck and multi-colored braid extending from the high rise waist to the hem gave a striped effect to the white linen skirt.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Kathy and Karen Hudson, also sisters of the bride, Miss Cheryl Schmitt, the groom's sister, and Miss Joan Bledsoe of Nashville, Tenn.

They appeared in gowns designed exactly the same as the honor attendant's dress with the Mo. Duane Kramer of Lin-green bodices. Each girl held a bouquet of white snow crystal poms, pink pom poms festooned with velvet ribbons to match her frock.

Debra Sue Mast and Jackie Hudson, cousins of the bride, wore lime green knit dresses, floor length, with short puffed sleeves. They distributed small rice packets to wedding guests as they arrived at the church.

Attending the groom as best man was James Boatman of St. Louis. Groomsman and ushers included Jack Wallace, Hazelwood, Mo., Paul Mueller, Waterloo, Ill., Joe Bray, Lemay, Mo., exception of light time coin. Nick, Jim Lumpkin, Fort Smith, Ark., and Marvin Walker of Bridgeton, Mo.

A reception was held at Gateway College immediately following the ceremony. The couple will reside in Florissant.

Both young people are graduates of Gateway College. The former Miss Hudson also graduated from Granite City High School and works at Hudson Jewelers, Mo. Paul Mueller, a high school teacher at Gateway College in September.

Mrs. Hudson, the bride's mother, wore a pink coat and dress ensemble with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses and baby breath.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Schmitt, also chose a pink coat dress complemented with white accessories. She wore a pink Sweetheart rose corsage.

JULY BRIDE. Mrs. Kenneth Schmitt, the former Miss Linda Joyce Hudson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hudson of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City. Her marriage was solemnized in the chapel of Gateway College of Evangelism, Florissant, Mo.

Barr-Ramatowski Wedding Solemnized in Maryville

Miss Catherine Elizabeth Ramatowski became the bride of Clarence Barr Jr., Thursday evening in ceremonies performed at Our Mother of Perpetual Help Roman Catholic Church in Maryville, Ill.

The Rev. James R. Collins officiated at the 7 o'clock double ring ceremony in a candlelight setting.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Nathalie Ramatowski, 414 N. Donk Ave., Maryville, and the late Adam V. Ramatowski, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barr Jr., 2017 Cottage Ave.

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown of chiffon over peau de soie. Long tapered sleeves were set in a lined bodice, designed with a V neckline, and delicate Gallon lace edged the sleeve cuffs, the neck and encircled the hem of the very full skirt.

A crown headpiece held in place her tiered tulle veil of bridal illusion and she held a bouquet of gladiolus edged with grape ivy.

The groom chose his brother, Raymond Barr, as best man. Seating the guests was Gary Mann, a cousin of the groom.

Guests were greeted at a reception held immediately following the ceremony at the Polish Hall in Madison.

Mr. Lewis Clausen recalls 60 years of housewarming

- 1912... "Had a hand-fired coal and wood furnace. Hard work and cold mornings."
- 1943... "Converted to a coal stoker. An improvement."
- 1948... "Converted to oil. Another improvement."
- 1971... "Put in an electric heat pump. It's just plain great!"

Lewis Clausen built this gracious farm home at rural Secor, near Bloomington, Illinois in 1912. Last year he had insulation added in the walls and roof and installed an electric heat pump. Supplemented by electric duct heaters, the system both heats and cools the 3,200 square feet in the home.

If your present heating system is starting to show its age, right now is a good time to look into converting to electric heat. It's the system that will stay modern for the life of your home. An Illinois Power sales representative will be glad to tell you about the different types of electric heat and provide cost estimates without obligation. Just call our office.

"The thing that impresses us is how even the temperature stays," says Mr. Clausen. "Inside the house, you hardly know one season from another."

Juvenile Law Calls for Community Handling

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service
Springfield — More and more youngsters who run afoul of Illinois law will soon find themselves remaining in their home communities instead of being committed to juvenile institutions in the state.

In fact, when new laws become effective July 1, 1974, no youngster under 13 can be committed to an institution unless the state department of child and family services certifies it lacks any other appropriate facility for handling him.

Joseph Coughlin, assistant director of the department of corrections, in charge of the juvenile division, said this will mean that only a "very rare" youngster under 13 will be sent to a juvenile penal facility.

The changes are part of a new approach to corrections generally, which in the case of juveniles is putting more and more emphasis on working with them in the home community. While numbers of youngsters being referred to family courts constantly increases, the number of youngsters being committed to the department of corrections has largely stabilized, Coughlin said.

Resolved in Community "Sooner or later, whatever problem the youngster has will have to be resolved in the home community," he says. "And committing a youngster to an institution creates new problems which work against any constructive things we are able to do."

He acknowledges that troubled youngsters, when institutionalized, can be helped academically, often advancing several school grades in a short time, and can often be helped as well by various kinds of counseling which results in attitude changes. Older boys, in particular, can also be taught a trade while in custody, he said.

However, Coughlin said, youngsters in custody tend to "reinforce" their images of themselves as delinquents, and when they return to their home communities, the problems are still there with new ones added, which tends to start the cycle all over again.

Future laws will define youngsters as delinquent, dependent and neglected, or as children needing supervision. In the case of delinquents, the new code will provide a child can be named delinquent for committing an act which would not be a crime if committed by an adult.

Habitual Runaway

In the past, a youngster who was repeatedly truant from school or habitually ran away could be placed on probation, and if he returned to his pattern of activity he could be committed, not for truancy or running away, but for violating his probation. Under the new code, this will not be possible.

Anyone under 13 under the new code will be returned over to family services, and only committed if that agency certifies it lacks any appropriate facility to deal with him.

Last year, two 10-year-olds, nine 11-year-olds, and 22 12-year-olds were committed, with 85 youngsters 13 years old committed.

In the past few years, Coughlin said, there have been rare cases where youngsters as young as eight and nine years old were committed.

The new code becomes effective Jan. 1, 1973, except for the provisions relating to 13 year olds, which were included in an amendment which does not go into effect until July 1, 1974.

Though new approaches have not been in use long enough to evaluate "success" rates, and since the department does not yet have fully operational information services to provide complete information, Coughlin said that return rates on youngsters being worked with in their own communities would indicate that the plan may be succeeding in its goal of rehabilitating youngsters before they mature into adult criminals.

Kris Kristofferson to Open Pop-Rock-Folk Music Phase of River Festival on July 11

Pop-rock music events at the Mississippi River Festival will begin next week with the modern sounds of Kris Kristofferson and Rita Coolidge on Tuesday, July 11, at 8:30 p.m.

The River Festival then will jump back in time to the "1950 Rock and Roll Revival" on Friday, July 14, at 8:30 p.m.

The Rock and Roll Revival, with WLL radio personality Larry Miller as master-of-ceremonies, will feature Bill Haley and the Comets, Chubby Checker, The Coasters, Freddie Cannon and Bobby Comstock.

Bill Haley and the Comets were the first to hit the rock and roll charts with their "Rock Around the Clock."

Chubby Checker made the Twist the dance craze of its time.

And the Coasters brought forth songs expressing frustrations of teenagers with comic parodies.

Among the Coasters' best-selling songs were "Yakety Yak," "Charlie Brown" and "Poison Ivy."

Freddie Cannon became popular with such hits as "Palladium Park," "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy" and "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans."

Bobby Comstock's "Let's Stomp" was a million seller.

On the current side of today's music are Kris Kristofferson and Rita Coolidge, performing on July 11.

Kris, whose unusual background includes a year as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford as well as five years toward becoming a career officer in the U.S. Army, came under the influence of Johnny Cash and other Nashville-based artists in 1965.

His big break came when Roger Miller and Janis Joplin recorded "Me and Bobby McGee" and "The Silver-Tongued Devil and I" are among his top hits and also the titles of his two albums.

Other hits include "Help Me Make It Through the Night," "Loving Her Was Easier" and

"Sunday Mornin'" Comin' Down.

Rita Coolidge is now making a big name on her own. But she has come up to this spot by first being one of the busiest studio vocalists around—with works on albums by Dave Mason, Graham Nash and Stephen Stills to name just a few.

She has toured extensively with the famous Dixie Flyers from Muscle Shoals and in the fabled Mad Dogs and Englishmen tour with Joe Cocker.

Her second LP, "Nice Feeling," includes songs by Benno, Bob Dylan, Neil Young, Graham Nash, Dave Mason and Flyer Mike Utley.

Tickets for Mississippi River Festival concerts range from $2.50 to $4.50 for reserved seating under the tent and lawn seating is $2. Ticket information may be obtained by calling Powell Symphony Hall at 1-314-533-2500 or the SIU-SW ticket office at 1-692-2320.

The six-week 1972 season is sponsored by Mississippi River Festival, Inc., a not-for-profit Illinois corporation with directors from Missouri and Illinois.

Auditing Proving Helpful to Public Agencies, Taxpayers

Copley News Service

Springfield—Because of State Auditor Michael J. Howlett's insistence on professional auditing of local governmental finances, taxpayers and local-level governmental officials are realizing benefits.

Howlett, first elected to the post in 1960, started early in his term of office to campaign for a mandatory auditing law of local government by certified public accountants and the filing of these audits with state auditor as public records.

In 1963, the General Assembly passed the law. Then, in 1967, it was extended to make auditing of townships and special districts mandatory.

Howlett says, "I am proud of my contributions to Illinois' reputation as the best audited state in the Union through passage and administration of these laws."

"The audits protect the taxpayers' interest by assuring that public money is properly handled. In addition, local officials have found the advice of professional accountants to be a help in their own work."

The questions that are raised in the audits are reported to Howlett, who in turn notifies the local officials of the needed correction in their fiscal management.

By way of example, Howlett cited the discovery of improper investments by a village. The investments were made in a building and loan association which was not insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance as required by law.

Seminar Held as Child Abuse Cases Set Record

Practitioners from a variety of professional disciplines participated Friday in a seminar on child abuse at Belleville.

The seminar was co-sponsored by the East St. Louis region of the state Department of Children and Family Services and the St. Clair County Mental Health Association. Featured speaker and workshop leader was Dr. Raymond E. Helfer, associate professor of pediatrics at Michigan State University and co-author of the acclaimed book, "The Battered Child."

Jim Anne Lawrence, director of the Department of Children and Family Services, said 1,400 invitations were sent to professionals in medicine, social work, mental health, law enforcement and education, as well as representatives of the legislative and judicial branches of government.

The initial session featured a review of the state Child Abuse Law and a presentation by Dr. Helfer, who focused both on prevention of abuse and rehabilitative treatment of the abuser.

The afternoon was devoted to working sessions involving 30 officials from both Illinois and Missouri who sought to develop a plan for coordination of efforts to combat child abuse.

"This planning session was particularly timely in view of the record number of cases of suspected child abuse reported to the Department of Children and Family Services by doctors and hospitals last month," Mrs. Lawrence commented. She continued:

"Eighty-nine incidents of suspected maltreatment of children were reported in May, and we have had more than 800 cases reported already during the current fiscal year.

"Hundreds of other cases are reported by school officials, neighbors and other sources which do not figure into the total. We suspect both factors are involved."

"It is difficult to determine whether this increase reflects greater incidence of child abuse or more conscientious reporting by those who bring these cases to our attention. We suspect both factors are involved."

"In any event, each report should trigger a prompt investigation which assures protection of the abused youngster and other children in the family and development of a plan to deal with the underlying family problems."

Court Order Cancels State Rock Festival

A court injunction has cancelled a music program in Peoria County, Ill., billed as the "State Rock Festival," it was announced late last week by Sheriff Bob Kennedy of Peoria.

Sponsors of the festival, which was slated to continue through the Fourth of July, reported a heavy advance sale of tickets, the officer said.

Productivity Important to Both Labor and Construction Firms, Union Official Asserts

Gains in productivity, or output per manhour, of Operating Engineers are greater than wage increases, it was reported late last week by Ted Dressel, business manager, Local 520, Operating Engineers, Granite City.

He also said productivity gains in the heavy construction industry are greater than wage boosts.

Dressel said that not only wages failed to maintain the pace with productivity gains, but incomes of operating engineers have failed to match advances in the cost of living. "Something must be done to correct this inequity," Dressel commented as he reflected on how the recent slump in a period of contract negotiations and hope to improve this situation, of course, within the governmental guidelines on wage increases.

Critics of the operating engineers have argued in the past that productivity in the heavy construction industry had grown more slowly than the wage rate. "Not so," said Dressel; "indeed, the contrary is true."

He emphasized that productivity is important to the construction industry because it is a basis of economic growth. He said it is important for contractors to have the newest productive equipment in order to be competitive in bidding for jobs.

He said for example, a contractor utilizing a concrete paver, used in highway construction, has advanced his productive ability by 200% over the past ten years, an average annual increase in productivity of 18.2%.

Dressel noted that a recent study of the heavy construction industry by the U. S. government, various state governments and heavy equipment manufacturers revealed "contract prices have not risen as fast over the past decade as one might expect."

"In fact, the actual increase in real constant dollars of the heavy construction industry has been 7.7% from 1960 to 1970 — or an yearly average of .7% cost of living index has advanced steadily in the past five years, an increase of 19.6% for 1966 through 1970 alone, while the average construction cost in real dollars of the operating engineers has declined severely from 1968 through 1970.

Summing up why he feels productivity is important to the operating engineers, Dressel said productivity is the basis for economic growth, increased efficiency, increased profitability and maintenance of competitive relationships — and it accounts for rising participation for labor and capital in the yield of economic growth.

SINCE THOROUGH NEWS coverage objectives require the Press-Record staff to be aware of nearly everything that is going on in the Quad-City area, it seemed appropriate to stop at the Passport Car Wash, 3318 Nameoki Road, Thursday afternoon to find out what was attracting an unusual volume of business. Our ever-eager-to-learn inquiring reporter-photographer was advised that two new members had just been added to the Passport staff — Sheryl Blochberger, 19, of 39 Moorland Drive (left) and Mindy Knapp, 18, of 3301 Harvard Place. In the best journalistic tradition, he provided this pictorial report of his visit.

FINAL TOUCH is the name of the service the young misses are providing at Passport and they obviously are skilled at the task, judging by the number of freshly-washed autos seen on nearby streets during the weekend. In this photo, Miss Blochberger is at work near the car wash exit, where the roar of the washing-drying mechanism has prompted her to don a noise-suppressing ear protection device.

A BETTER WASH is the goal of the "final touch" girls, who put finishing touches on the largely automated car wash by wiping off headlights, windows and chrome. They endeavor to remedy any spots of dust missed by the machinery and to remove any drops of water that might escape the rapid drying process. The new service became effective officially on Saturday. The new employees have found the uniform of blouse, shorts and boots to be ideal for their job, particularly on busy, warm days. An as yet unsolved problem is the effect of the blower mechanism on their hair-dos.

Four Men Arrested After Incident at Speedway

Four Granite City men were arrested and charged with aggravated battery after an incident at 10:30 p.m. Friday at the Tri-City Speedway in which five persons were threatened with a pistol and a former policeman was struck by a car and a gunshot fired at him.

Three brothers, Harold Jay Dickerman, 23, Charles Randall Dickerman, 18, and Rodney Wayne Dickerman, 17, all of 4720 Warlock St., and Mark A. Carver, 37, of 2325 Lincoln Ave., were arrested at the Dickerman home shortly before midnight Friday by Madison County Sheriff's deputies. They are being held in the Madison County Jail. Bond has not been set this morning.

The incident occurred during the late model stock car feature race at the speedway when two men in the west end of the bleachers began to argue.

Witnesses gave this account: One man produced a hammer from under his shirt and threatened the other man. The other man then produced a pistol from his waistband and threatened the man and fired shots at the bleachers near him.

There are conflicting reports whether or not the gunman fired one shot in the bleachers but he ran through the crowd and out the speedway gate, pushing people out of the way as he ran.

Meeting Called on Pontoon Sewer Plan

A special meeting of the Pontoon Beach Board of Trustees has been called for 6 p.m. Thursday to discuss blocking the outlet of the village storm water sewer system.

The proposal, made by Paul Hawkins, Madison County environmental control officer, calls for blocking the storm sewer outlet and filling the sewer with water and allowing it to back up into the yards of those residents whose home sewers or septic tank connections lead to the storm sewer system.

The proposal already has been endorsed by the Madison County Environmental Council and by Louis Whitsell, Nameoki Township supervisor. If the Pontoon Beach trustees approve the plan Thursday, action to block the sewer could begin immediately.

At Thursday's special meeting, the Pontoon Board also considered regular business. Otto Kreher, village board president, said this morning in announcing the meeting date.

City Still Waiting For Mail Ordinances

Ordinances and legal proceedings which must be approved by the city council before the city may proceed with construction of the downtown Granite City mail had not yet been received today from Charles & Trauericht, St. Louis authorities on municipal and other governmental procedures.

William Brandt, attorney for the Granite City Board of Local Improvements which is handling the project, said he has written the legal form in an effort to determine how soon the documents will be received.

After the council approves the ordinances and authorizes the sale of special assessment bonds to finance the mail construction, the project must be presented to the circuit court for approval. Once court approval is obtained, construction of the mail may begin.

Shrine Blood Donor Day Is Thursday, Public Invited

The public is being invited to participate in a semi-annual blood donor program sponsored by the Ainaad Shrine's Legion of Honor in cooperation with the Tri-City Shrine Club. The program will take place from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thursday at the air-conditioned Nameoki United Methodist Church, 1700 Pontoon Road.

Individuals donating blood will insure their family's blood needs for one year. It was explained. Blood obtained during the program will be used for area children who are patients at the Shriners' Burns Institute in Cincinnati, O.

Avery Schermer, Tri-City Shrine Club president, said statistics show that the current week is a critical time for whole blood needs because accidents and summer mishaps are at their highest peak due to the Fourth of July holiday.

Whole blood contributed Thursday will be used locally, primarily at St. Elizabeth Hospital, with credit units transferred to the Cincinnati Burns Institute.

The Red Cross will provide three bloodmobile units, equipped with nine beds, to eliminate any delay to donors.

Schermer said, "Persons wishing to contribute blood may get additional information about the program by contacting Donald Kopp, at 631-6273, or any other local Shriner."

At present about 20 area youngsters have received quantities of blood at the burns hospital that must be replaced, the club officer said. One child required 83 pints during treatment, he noted.

Act to Speed Court Test of Aid for Parochial Schools

To hasten a court test of the new $30 million program for non-public schools was voted by the General Assembly a year ago. The U. S. Supreme Court, shortly after struck down similar laws in other states as causing "excessive entanglement" of church and state.

Gov. Ogilvie then used his amendatory veto power to rewrite the bills.

The Illinois Supreme Court ruled the governor had unconstitutionally used the amendatory veto. Constitutionality of the bills themselves has never been tested.

The 1972 bills are identical to the 1971 bills as amended by the governor.

Ban on Death Penalty Affects 30 in State

Copley News Service

Springfield — Thirty Illinois men will not sit in the electric chair as a result of Thursday's U. S. Supreme Court ruling banning the death penalty.

All 30 have been housed in the Condemned-Isolation Unit at the Stateville Penitentiary. Two had been in the Psychiatric Division of the Illinois State Penitentiary at Menard but have been transferred, according to Elza Brantley, warden at Menard.

"The condemned men will have to go back into the courts to be resentenced," George Stampar, assistant warden at Stateville, explained.

"All of them will be eligible for parole after they have served 11 years, three months."

Stampar said any Illinois man who is sentenced to 20 years or more in the penitentiary is automatically eligible for a hearing before the Parole Board after the 11 year, three month period is served.

"There are a couple here who will be eligible in a year or two," Stampar said.

The Illinois man who has waited on death row longest is Orville Waldron, a convicted murderer, he has been in the Condemned-Isolation Unit since 1964.

The state of Illinois last executed a man Aug. 24, 1962 when James Dukes, convicted for killing a Chicago police officer, was electrocuted at Cook County Jail.

The last and only man to be electrocuted at Stateville was Herman Frederick Weber on Sept. 16, 1948. Weber, 25, was found guilty of killing a 20-year-old Bradley University student in 1947.

Another notorious Illinois convict at Stateville is Richard Speck, who was sentenced to die for the murder of eight Chicago nurses July 14, 1966.

Stampar said he was not around death row when the news was delivered, but said, "It must have sounded like New Year's Eve. I would like to have gotten the reactions on a tape recorder."

He said he had been considering a proposal to allow the 30 condemned men to mingle with the general population at Joliet Stateville, formerly a taboo.

"I won't have to worry about that now," he concluded.

Harvest Of Wheat Nears End

Mild, clear days last week allowed many Madison County farmers to complete their wheat harvest. Several wheat fields in the county already have been replanted with soybeans for a double crop.

Those clear days also offered favorable baling conditions. Farmers are reporting a good supply of clean, dry wheat straw-freshly baled and ready to sell.

With the majority of the wheat harvested and the planting finally done, emphasis now is on control of weeds to insure clean fields for next year's crops.
